

WEST POINTER HARTER

West Point Plebe Home For Holidays

James Harter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Harter of 8516 Troy st., Lemon Grove, was home for the holidays from West Point where he is completing his first semester.

Harter, who was graduated from Mt. Miguel last year, faced strong competition in S. D. County to earn the appointment to the Point. His class was the first plebe class to get to come home for Christmas. He reported that the "going is pretty rough the first year" but that he is learning to work under pressure. More and more responsibility is regularly given plebes, he said. The courses at West Point are basically the same as any other college first year where engineering is emphasized. "We get a lot of math," he said.

Harter's grades have been A minus and he made the Dean's list in October. He was first man on the school's plebe wrestling team but was beaten in the last 15 seconds of his last match.

He will be graduated a 2nd Lt. in the Army with four years of service to complete.

PLANNING COMMISSIONER RETIRES FRI.

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Dr. Willis H. Miller, county director of planning, has announced that he will retire from county service on Jan. 8.

Miller had previously announced that he would retire but had not given a specific date. He was forced out of county service by the Board of Supervisors who had the agreement of the County Planning Commission.

In his letter to the Planning Commission, Miller suggested that Dan C. Cherrier, assistant director of planning be appointed to the top post in the department.

Cherrier, 49, has been with the county for 5½ years. He came here from Kern County. The new planning director will be chosen by the commission but not until after competitive examinations and interviews. The directorship is a Civil Service position.

Vandals Break Into Kempton School, Steal Watches And Custodian's Keys

Kempton Elementary School was hit by vandals last Friday or Saturday. They entered the Spring Valley school and stole two stop watches and the custodian's master keys.

Using the master keys they entered and prowled through numerous rooms. Two bottles were taken from a soft drink machine. The total loss was set at $30.

Tachometer Taken
James Edward Cross, 18, of 7527 Longdale dr., Lemon Grove, reported that an olive green tachometer was taken from his car parked in the 7700 block of Broadway. He told sheriff's deputies that the aircraft type tachometer was worth $50.

Three Recovering From Canyon Plunge

Three local youths are in good condition at El Cañon Valley hospital after they survived a 700-foot plunge in an auto down a Laguna Mountain canyon early Tuesday.

The injured, all students at Mt. Miguel high school, are Joseph C. Anfuso, 18, of 1121 Presioia st., Spring Valley, face and head injuries; William R. Davis, 19, of 1915 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove, neck and back injuries, and Dan Sheets, 19, of 889 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley, head lacerations.

The youths were thrown from the car about 200 feet down the canyon wall bordering Sunrise Highway, four miles north of Laguna Lodge. The auto tumbled on down, 500 feet, to the bottom. California Highway Patrol said that Anfuso, the driver, apparently lost control of the car. They had made an early morning trip to the mountains to see the snow. The accident occurred between 5 and 6:30 a.m.

Davis and Sheets managed to get back to the road, the CHP reported, and got aid from a passing motorist. Anfuso, who complained of a back injury, was removed by stretcher and ropes. Thick brush on the side of the canyon helped reduce the seriousness of the injuries when the youths were thrown from the car, officials said.

An officer said it was luck that averted fatalities in the accident.

Spring Valley Gets 30 Degrees Low Temperature

Low temperatures were recorded in the Spring Valley-Lemon Grove areas during the past few days of wintry weather.

Spring Valley's reporting station at the fire house listed 30 degrees as low New Year's night. No frost damage was reported however. Saturday the low was 35 degrees and Sunday it was 32. Monday, 36 was recorded and on Tuesday it did not drop below 47.

In Lemon Grove the low was registered as 34 degrees Friday night. Saturday it was 36 and Sunday it was 39.

The low Monday was 36 and Tuesday it was 50. High, during the three days, was 60 degrees.

BULLETIN

MAY CLOSE WOMAN'S CLUB CLUBHOUSE HERE

The days of the Lemon Grove Woman's Club clubhouse at Olive and Main streets, Lemon Grove, may be nearly over.

A meeting is being held at the clubhouse Friday at 1 p.m. with officials of the Lemon Grove Fire Department to assess the cost of bringing the clubhouse up to public safety standards.

At the meeting, the fire department members will explain the improvements that must be made to meet fire department standards.

No estimate of the work was available from fire department officials.

USO — Miss Susan Starbuck of Lemon Grove finds that decorating can be fun when there is some help. Jim Fintak of the USS Shields is giving the assistance. Miss Starbuck is a USO junior volunteer. The USO in the San Diego area is conducting a drive to interest young women between 18 and 25 in the junior volunteer program. The young women are needed to continue to give the USO program its pleasant and congenial atmosphere, helping to serve the men who serve their country. Young women who would enjoy spending an evening or two a week talking, dancing, playing cards and preparing and serving a buffet supper, are invited to call the USO for an appointment with the director. The number is 234-7989.

Membership Drive Is Chamber Project

The Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce will enter its float in the March of Dimes Parade in National City Jan. 24. C of C President Forrest Baxter announced Tuesday at the regular board meeting.

In other matters, the board considered a brochure to be given to those who want information regarding the community.

A program to urge members to pay dues and to get new members is being undertaken. Baxter said. A letter carrying an invitation to join, and a card by which membership may be more easily obtained, is being sent to a wide mailing. Jesse Lee and Merrill Weber are in charge of the project.

Donovan Opens Term With War On Obscenity

Assemblyman Richard J. Donovan (R-7th District) this week fired the opening shot in the war against smut and obscenity with the introduction of a bill to outlaw the dissemination of indecent and obscene matter to juveniles.

In a completely new approach, never previously tried, Donovan's measure avoids the usual charge that such control constitutes censorship by concentrating instead on keeping smutty materials out of juvenile hands.

"The biggest problem we face in trying to control obscene and indecent materials at the author or publisher source is the outcry this approach generates even among the most reputable of authors and publishing media," Donovan explained. "Every newspaper and radio and TV station in the country takes up arms at the slightest hint of governmental intrusion into the realm of censorship. Most difficult of all is defining what constitutes pornography or obscenity in art and literature and who is qualified to act as judge or arbiter of such definitions."

Donovan, an attorney and member of the Criminal Procedure Committee, proposes a unique regulatory solution similar to the one being used by the motion picture industry. Under his legislation, matter considered indecent would be plainly marked "Adults Only" and kept from open sales racks. The sale, distribution, advertising, giving away, or lending of such materials to anyone under 18 would

Juvenile Officer On Men's Club Program Friday

Sheriff's deputy E. F. (Ted) Kohl will provide a program on juvenile problems Friday when the L. G. Men's Club reconvenes for the first time since mid-December.

Sheriff Kohl, a plainclothesman, has been the juvenile officer in charge in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area for the past two years. John Bridger, vice-president, will run the meeting in the absence of John Dail who is ill.

At the Men's Club December meeting the Rev. Jordan Detzer, pastor of the L. G. Methodist church, discussed some of the problems viewed by the churches of the community. One of the most troublesome ones, he said, were those attributed to juveniles. As a result of his talk the Men's club invited Sheriff Kohl to discuss juveniles.

At Friday's meeting, a nominating committee headed by Max Goodwin will give its report. The club will then elect officers for the coming year. Meetings are held each Friday at Michael's at noon for a no-host luncheon. All males of the area are eligible to attend.

CIVIC THEATER OPENS TUESDAY

San Diego next Tuesday will unveil the new Community Course.

The San Diego Civic Theater will add its sparkle to a versatile municipal complex that has few rivals in America.

Opening night is already a sell-out. It will be a performance by the San Diego Symphony Orchestra, conducted by Earl Bernard Murray, starring Dorothy Kirsten, soprano of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Operas, and Brian Sullivan, a leading Metropolitan tenor.

Christmas Seals Give Research A Shot In Arm

Medical research received a $120,000 shot in the arm in California this year, thanks to Christmas Seals.

Local contributions helped support a statewide program which provided research grants for 10 leading scientific investigators and special fellowships for 26 medical students, according to Dr. Kenneth G. Hanson, Lemon Grove area chairman for the 58th Christmas Seal Campaign.

Mt. Miguel Graduate Wins Post In Italian Election

Angelo Sanza, 23, a 1960 Mt. Miguel graduate who was an American Field exchange student from Potenza, Italy, called his American foster family, the Bert Cosbys of Lemon Grove, to share his good news.

He had just been elected to a high administration post in Potenza — the youngest man to ever receive this office along with the greatest number of votes. Potenza is the capital of one of the 19 provinces in Italy with a population of over 50,000. Angelo has often stated that much of his success is due to his experience with A.F.S., and the confidence, background and broader view it has given him. Since leaving Mt. Miguel he has been graduated from the University of Rome.

At this time of the year it is required by the national headquarters of A. F. S. to submit the names of local families who would like to share their home and talents with a boy or girl from a foreign country. Mt. Miguel hopes to have two foreign students in September. The qualifications are reasonable and the rewards to both the foster family and its adopted student are many.

The A.F.S. is looking for cheerful, warm, fun-loving families with interests and hobbies shared as a family. For additional information contact the Wolfarth family at 469-2259 or the Cosby family at 469-1234 or Mt. Miguel High School.

Rabies Clinic Set For Spring Valley

The annual clinic for rabies inoculations for Spring Valley dogs is scheduled for Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. at S. V. Fire Station No. 2, Casa de Oro blvd. and Ramona dr. The clinic is sponsored by the Spring Valley Lions Club and cost will be $1.50 per shot, with Dr. Fred Sherman D. V. donating his time.

The shots will be good for two years and the certificate must be presented to the County Animal shelter in South Spring Valley in order to obtain a dog license for dogs not inoculated within the past two years.

Angels Unaware Readers' Total Reaches 1181

Listing of names of persons who subscribe to this publication to aid Angels Unaware is renewed with this issue. Solicitation went on during the holidays but the listing of names did not.

In our issue of December 10, the list had reached 1,166.

Twenty nine more names were in the issue of December 17, making the total 1145. This week, 36 names are listed bringing the total to 1181.

One subscriber, R. D. Wilder of 2815 Dennis lane, Lemon Grove contributed directly.

Angels Unaware is the East County Chapter of the San Diego Association for Retarded Children. The center is at 1288 E. Lexington ave., El Cajon. Youngsters who cannot be as-simulated in regular schools are given day training at Angels Unaware.

Proceeds from the subscription campaign are earmarked for playground equipment.

Amounts ranging from 10 cents to $3.50 are given to Angels Unaware for each subscription obtained. A simple renewal (through our salespeople) provides the smaller amount.

When a first-time subscriber pays for the newspaper for two years through a representative of Angels Unaware, $3.50 is contributed to the center.

Varying amounts in between are handed over for other combinations.

Each week this publication prints the names of the families who have agreed to participate. This week's list includes:

R. D. Wilder, 2815 Dennis lane, L. G.
Jessie C. Ball, 2020 Eldora st., L. G.
Adolph Sando, 2023 Eldora st., L. G.
Manford A. Repard, 2041 Eldora st., L. G.

Foster Homes Needed For Local Children

Every month 100 to 150 children in San Diego County need foster homes. Although many families are providing foster home care many more foster homes are needed.

In the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area both day care and full-time foster homes are needed.

Full-time or 24 hour foster home care is a temporary home for an unrelated child who will live as a member of the foster family until he can return to his own home. At present there is a critical shortage of foster homes for many family groups and for older children.

A day-care foster home offers care for younger children during day time hours when their parents are working.

While offering an essential community service many day-care foster parents also offer day-care to provide companionship for their own child or to earn supplemental income.

Due to the shortage of licensed foster homes many children receive inadequate care.

A license is necessary as California law requires any person who is providing a day-care or full-time care home for an unrelated child under sixteen years of age must have a license. Licensing is for the protection of the child, giving assurance that good care and guidance will be provided. The license is issued free of charge by the Department of Public Welfare.

Those interested in learning more about the Foster home program can call 234-8871, Ext. 245 for information.

No More Civic Center

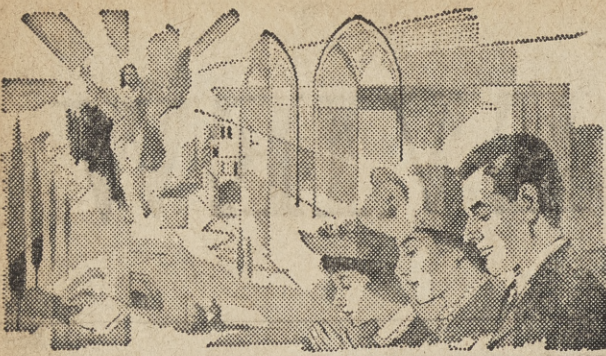

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — "Do you see a Civic Center?" "I don't see a Civic Center." There is no Civic Center. There never has been a Civic Center, at least in San Diego County.

What there has been is a San Diego City-County Administration Building. What there is now is a San Diego County Administration Center.

The new name was given to the civic center on Harbor Drive Tuesday by the County Board of Supervisors.

The county is in the process of buying the city of San Diego's share of the building and grounds for $3,300,000. The city moved into its new city hall in September which is officially named San Diego City Administration Building. The supervisors indicated that the name "civic center" would cause confusion with the new city building.

It sure does look like a civic center, though.

Your Church presents to you the Word of God and His Sacraments through which you are strengthened and kept in the faith. You need the ministry of your church on the day of worship. Your Church depends upon you for your prayers, attendance, witness and support.

Church Women's Council Sets Jan. 15 Meeting

The fifth annual meeting of the Homeland Council of Church Women will be held Friday, Jan. 15, at 10 a.m. in St. Philip's

Church Official Visits L.G. Christian Church

Mr. Lloyd Cummings, the new director of the Building and Loan Fund for the Southern California Christian Churches, will be guest speaker this Sunday during the 11 o'clock worship service at the Lemon Grove Christian Church.

He is a minister of the Gospel and was preaching full time when he was called to take the position of helping new churches in their building programs.

The Lemon Grove Christian Church will be a two year old congregation this Jan. 27. It recently purchased 2½ acres of land just above Freeway 94 where Buena Vista st. makes its underpass. There is now a large sign on the property that can easily be seen from the heart of Lemon Grove.

Mr. Cummings, whose office is in Los Angeles, will look over the building site and examine the past records of this growing congregation. It is hoped that through his assistance definite plans for a new building can start being formulated.

The Lemon Grove Christian Church now meets at 4207 Palm ave. in La Mesa through the hospitality of the 7th Day Adventist Church. Visitors are always welcome to come and worship and take advantage of the two nurseries available.

Service To Bring Out Demands of Sacrament

The spiritual demands of "Sacrament" will be brought out in the communion service to be held this Sunday at all Christian Science branch churches and societies.

Bible verses to be considered include the "new commandment" given by Jesus: "as I have loved you, that ye also love one another" (John 13).

Services in Lemon Grove are at 11 a.m. at 7741 Pacific ave. Sunday School is at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday evening meetings are at 8 p.m.

GOD'S MINUTE

REV. H. C. BAKKEN

"I KNOW"

One of the first truths which we must be convinced of if we are to come to peace and rest in our souls is that "The Bible is the Word of God." If a person will take the message of the Bible as it is and trust it, there will be a demonstration within the person that He has come in contact with the Word of a Living God. You can say, "I Know."

Burch-Zartman Wedding Held New Year's Day

The Chapel of the Valley (Spring Valley Tabernacle) was the setting New Year's Day for a double-ring ceremony which united a Spring Valley woman and an Oxnard, Calif. man in marriage. The bride was the former Mrs. Dorothy Burch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Johnson of 4206 North Cordoba, and the groom, Robert Zartman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zartman of Macy, Indiana. Rev. Don Tinsley, pastor of the chapel, performed the ceremony and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Barbara Dyson. Best man was William Zartman Jr., brother of the groom. Ushers were Duane Johnson, brother of the bride, and Ray Temberton. Organist was Robert Bradley, official organist for the chapel.

The bride's attire was a champagne-beige suit, with a pink collar. Her accessories were dark brown and she carried a bouquet of white carnations. The matron of honor wore a mint-green wool suit and carried white carnations.

The reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Johnson, 10004 Sierra Madre, Spring Valley.

The bride attended Grossmont High School, but graduated from Forest City (Mo.), High School. She was raised in Jamul, Calif. Zartman is a graduate of Tri-State College of Indiana and is an engineer for the Westinghouse Corp.

in more and better education for the tax dollar expended." Not all of his report comes up roses however. We'll get to that in a moment, as they say in the radio commercials. We'll use that moment to describe Unruh, who was center-point of interest recently at a legislative delegation banquet at which the press of the county were guests.

The Honorable Jesse M. Unruh is your favorite Uncle Harry, the guy who invites you to have a beer and acts as though he would rather do nothing more than to enjoy the beer and your company. Folksy, is maybe the better word.

A U. S. Congressman told us that for all his folksy and outgoing appearance, Unruh is a very sensitive man, a man given to deep, philosophical determinations.

At the banquet he exposed himself to all types of questions and fielded each one with aplomb. There was nary a bobbie. In fact, he started answering questions before the complete question was posed. A rather remarkable performance, we thought.

But back to the survey. Most of the respondents said a greater coordination between teachers of the elementary and secondary levels was possible through unification of districts. Yet, only 73% said more cooperation existed when the question was turned around to ask whether the cooperation was more or less.

Number of classified personnel? Unification caused it to be reduced: 18%; increased 24%; same 43%. Operational tax rate: Lower 6%; same 42%; more 9%. Paper work: More 34%; less 30%; same 22%.

So as not to mislead anyone, the balance of the survey, comprised of 38 items, reported that the unified district had overwhelming advantages, advantages that come with big business and big districts.

One thing that no survey will ever be able to show, and that is that people who support the schools, couples with their kids going through these schools, will feel as close to a big district as they do a small one. In the relatively large La Mesa-Spring Valley District there has been turmoil in the past. In Lemon Grove there has been little.

The entire school system, we believe, will suffer a loss of popular support when residents of the local districts lose the intimate touch of knowing personnel of the district on a personal basis.

"Efforts to control the production of smutty materials have always floundered because of the problem of definition. This way, we can at least make an effort to keep it out of juvenile hands in the same way we control liquor sales to minors. Display racks of racy magazines and books will be removed from supermarkets and other stores frequented by the general public. Hopefully, we can make it so unprofitable to the publishers and producers of these materials that they will cease putting out such trash."

Michael Sullivan Given Commission in Navy

NEWPORT, R. I. — Navy Ensign Michael A. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Sullivan of 2330 Difoss st., Lemon Grove, received his commission Nov. 20 upon graduation from the Naval Officer Candidate School, at Newport, R. I.

The 16-week intensive training program prepared the officer candidate in Naval leadership, gunnery ordnance, seamanship, military justice and Naval sciences.

If you have a thoughtful friend you may have received a new rose bush or a gift certificate for Christmas. If not you can now buy a bare root rose at your nurseryman's. It is best to buy one grown in your area and not one grown in another climate.

Roses grow best in full sun and away from roots of larger shrubs or trees. They can stand some shade and even get used to the coastal winds. If you are buying one yourself, however, it is best to consult your garden supply dealer as to the best rose of the color you want for your location. You don't want to plant a cool temperature lover in the hot valley nor a rose susceptible to mildew on the ocean front.

While you are at your nurseryman's, pick up a bottle of rose spray as you will need it if aphids and fungus attack later.

Wayne Freeman Ends Camp Pendleton Course

CAMP PENDLETON. — Marine Pvt. Wayne R. Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reece T. Freeman, Sr., of 7875 Palm st., Lemon Grove, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Second Infantry Training Regiment, Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

While with the regiment all new Marines are trained in tactical and combat skills needed for battle. Emphasis was placed on the small unit tactic, the four-man fire team and the 14-man squad.

Southwest Corner

Here is another column by veteran writer Pete Odens of Imperial Valley. An interesting historical column, which we will publish from time to time, will concern history of Southern California.

SONORA, CALIF. — Christmas Day had arrived in the Mother Lode County, and although the year was 1853 and the Gold Rush, only a few years old, was full of the towns and mining camps were less boisterous, less rowdyish for that one day. Prospectors who had been swarming over the hills, washing gold out of rivers and often merely using a butcher knife to pry the precious metal from between rocks and out of crevices, were idle — although not disinclined to have a few drinks in a saloon — and even Big Bonanza Mine near Sonora, the biggest pocket mine ever discovered in the area, was silent.

John Haines looked out of the window of his cabin. The weather was cold and a storm threatened. "Damn that jackass Clint Atkins," he muttered to himself. "Now why couldn't he come down last night to help us celebrate?"

Dewitt Clinton Atkins, who had found his way to the rich diggings of the Mother Lode all the way from Philadelphia, had built a cabin for himself far away from town in Dragon Gulch. There, he lived all by himself, and the more Haines thought about it, the less he liked it. It was not like Atkins to stay away from town on a holiday. "Wonder what he's up to," Haines muttered. Better go and pay him a visit. Help him celebrate the day.

He put on his heavy Mackinaw coat and set out for Dragon Gulch. It was a severe winter, the snow was high on the hills and in the washes and Haines made only slow progress, but at last he saw his friend's cabin. The snow lay so high it almost completely blocked the door and windows of the cabin. Haines managed to fight his way through and knocked. There was no answer and, with a growing feeling of apprehension, he entered. Atkins was huddled up by the stove, but fire had almost gone out. "Clint, ol' buddy!" Haines exclaimed as he stepped up to his friend. "Clint, how..." He stopped short as he saw his friend's face. "I'm afraid it's smallpox," Atkins whispered. "Yes, I think I'm dying of smallpox."

Haines picked him up gently. "I'm going to get you fixed up, old man," he said. "John," Atkins spoke with an effort, "John, I should tell you to go away, but I can't. I'm glad you came. I was sure I was going to die all by myself and be buried in the cabin. And today, I think, is Christmas Day. You're making it a merry Christmas for me, John."

"Well," Haines said, "first we'll make it a warm Christmas. We went outside to cut some wood. Then he made some tea and toast, put Atkins to bed and covered him with blankets. Next he returned to Sonora to buy some medicine and, upon his return to the cabin, sat up with Atkins until he was sure that the dying man was asleep. Not for a moment did he consider the danger to which he had exposed himself.

Again the following day, Haines went to town for more supplies and medicine. There, he met Enoch Davis, a good friend of both of them. Davis agreed to accompany Haines to the cabin, and together they kept vigil at Atkins' bed. For the next several days, the three men were alone in the lonely cabin, one of them dying, and all they could hear was the sound of rain falling softly on the roof, or, at times, turning into a violent rain as rain became hail, while the wind outside was lashing the country and coyotes were howling mournfully.

At 6 o'clock in the morning of January 4 it was all over. Haines and Davis went to Sonora, bought some lumber and fashioned a simple coffin which they carried to Atkins' cabin. Under a pine tree they buried their friend. Then, they set fire to the cabin and watched it crumble slowly into ashes. "What else could we have done, friend Enoch?" Haines asked sadly, but Enoch shook his head. "What else could we have done!" he exclaimed savagely.

"Let's go, Enoch, Haines said gently, "it's time to go down to Sonora. A new year has begun."

Monarchs Win 53 to 49 In Game With Matadors

A stall play backfired when Mount Miguel's Jon Minich went backcourt to open the way for Monte Vista to nip the Matadors 53 to 49 on the Monarch boards Tuesday.

Students Invited To Speech Event

The La Mesa American Legion has invited high school speech students to take part in a speech contest. Local preliminaries of the 28th annual National High School Oratorical Contest sponsored by the National Americanism Commission of the American Legion will begin Jan. 10 in the La Mesa American Legion Hall at 8118 University ave., La Mesa. Officials of El Cajon, El Capitán, Granite Hills, Grossmont, Helix, Monte Vista and Mt. Miguel High Schools and parents are asked to encourage qualified students to participate. The subject of the oration will be some phase of the Constitution of the United States.

minutes of play. Monte Vista point leader Don Roberson insured a Monarch win in the last five seconds with a one-point penalty shot. Miguel trailed Monte Vista in the first quarter by six points, with John Henkle getting the first basket for the home team followed by Miguel's Keith Padgett.

The Matadors were able to close up the gap in the second and third periods by capitalizing on Monte Vista's fumbles at the back board. At the beginning of the fourth quarter the Monarchs led 41 to 39. But with the help of Miguel's roundballers Dennis Ashley and Pat Ela, Keith Padgett was able to slip the ball in the net for the two points needed, 47 to 47, in the middle of the fourth. This was the first league action either team has seen in the '65 season.

OLD GLOBE
A new policy of reduced priced student tickets has been announced by the Old Globe Theater.

All students through college may purchase tickets at $1.50 each for the best seats at the time of reservation. Performances which students may take advantage of the special price are Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Sunday evenings. Matinees are also included at the student rate.

18-Month Test Under Way At Lemon Grove School

The Mt. Vernon Elementary School is participating in a state-wide field test of three different approaches to foreign language instruction in California elementary schools. The test is being conducted by the State Department of Education and System Development Corporation (SDC), Santa Monica. Under the sponsorship of the U. S. Office of Education, the 18-month study will provide local school districts with a demonstration of alternative methods of implementing the law passed by the California Legislature in 1961, making mandatory the teaching of foreign languages in the sixth, seventh, and eighth grades starting in 1965. A California Department of Education-SDC research team has been conducting the study in selected elementary schools throughout the state, where several thousand sixth, seventh, and eighth graders are being taught Spanish by the following methods:

1) Instruction by television consisting of three weekly 20-minute telecasts, with follow-up by the classroom elementary teacher two times a week.
2) Programmed instruction (self-instructional material under supervision of a classroom teacher).
3) Instruction by a qualified language teacher using a commonly-used audio-lingual course of study.

SDC, a non-profit corporation, specializes in the design and development of computer-based command control and information systems for military, governmental, scientific and educational applications. The corporation is currently providing counsel and implementation aid in new technology to a number of educational institutions and government agencies including the U. S. Office of Education, California State Department of Education, and several other school districts.

Classes To Begin For Parents of Teenagers

Parents of teenagers are invited to attend an eight-week lecture-discussion seminar for a better understanding of the problems of teenagers. Sponsored by the Poothills Family Services Association, John E. Barnwell, psychiatrist, social worker, will lead the eight weekly meetings beginning Jan. 26, at Grossmont High School. Parents who are worried about their teenagers, about dating, driving, sex, discipline are invited to attend this series. Class membership is limited to thirty. If more than this number enroll, reservations will be taken for a second class to begin later this semester.

To enroll, attend the first class at Grossmont High School on Jan. 26, at 7:30 p.m. Fee $3.00 per parent, $5.00 for both parents.

"Glamour on a Budget", our cooking school theme for January, should be very appealing about this time of year when Christmas bills have stretched your budget to the extreme. Our first program will be next Tuesday, January 12, at 10:00 a.m. and we will present another completely different program at 10:00 a.m., Tuesday, January 26. They will be held in the lovely Home Living Center of San Diego Gas & Electric Company's Eastern District Office at 104 North Johnson Street in El Cajon. Join us, won't you? There will be door prizes and admission is free. At our first program, we will "Take a Pound of Hamburger" and show you that it can be as delicious as it is economical. We'll prepare several dishes, including Savory Skillet Burger, Double Quick Meat Loaf and Hungry Boy Casserole. Our second program is entitled "Thrifty, Satisfying and Tasty" and our recipes are just that! They will include a Hearty Soup—a sure husband pleaser—Barbequed Short Ribs, Beef Burgundy and Apricot Skillet Cake. You are sure to please your guests with Chinese Lamb Riblets—a delicious hors d'oeuvre that's easy to prepare and easy on your household budget. I'll be looking forward to sharing my thrifty but tasty budget meal information with you at the two scheduled January meetings.
